

TEST II OCT – 2022, BE – II Year (IT) – A, B
ITR3C2 Object Oriented Programming

Duration: 70 Min.

Maximum Marks: 20

i)	What is meant by package? How to move a class in a package? Explain with the help of a programming example.	4
ii)	What is meant by inheritance? Explain the different types of inheritances supported by Java. Write a program in java to create the inheritance and use it in main method class to calculate area and volume of a room	4
iii)	What is meant by Exception? How JAVA supports Exception handling? Compare Exception handling mechanism with that of traditional error handling mechanism. How the Exception can be handled if they are thrown by one method to another? Explain.	4
iv)	Write a Java program that does the following: • Declare a string object named s containing the string "This is extraordinary programming Language!!" • Print the entire string. • Use the length() method to print the length of the string. • Use the charAt() method to print the first character in the string. • Use the charAt() and the length() methods to print the last character in the string. Use the indexOf() and the substring() methods to print the first word in the string.	4
v)	Explain JAVA's thread model by comparing multithreaded environment with single threaded system. Explain the different types of priorities associated with thread using a simple programming example.	4